The Procter & Gamble Company: Reg G Reconciliation of Non-GAAP measures

In accordance with the SEC's Regulation G, the following provides definitions of the non-GAAP measures used in the earnings call and slides with the reconciliation to the most closely related GAAP measure. The measures provided are as follows:

1. Organic Sales Growth – pages 1 and 2
2. Core EPS – pages 3 through 4
3. Core Operating Profit Margin – page 5
4. Core Gross Margin – page 5
5. Core Selling, General & Administrative Expenses (SG&A) as a % of Net Sales – page 5
6. Core Operating Profit Growth – page 5
7. Core Effective Tax Rate – page 6
8. Free Cash Flow / Adjusted Free Cash Flow – page 6
9. Adjusted Free Cash Flow Productivity – page 6

1. Organic Sales Growth:

Organic sales growth is a non-GAAP measure of sales growth excluding the impacts of acquisitions, divestitures and foreign exchange from year-over-year comparisons. We believe this provides investors with a more complete understanding of underlying sales trends by providing sales growth on a consistent basis. Organic sales is also one of the measures used to evaluate senior management and is a factor in determining their at-risk compensation. The reconciliation of reported sales growth to organic sales is as follows:

2. Core EPS: This is a measure of the Company's diluted net earnings per share from continuing operations excluding certain items that are not judged to be part of the Company's sustainable results or trends. This includes current year impairment charges for goodwill and indefinite lived intangible assets, current year charges related to incremental restructuring charges due to increased focus on productivity and cost savings, a significant benefit in FY 2011 from the settlement of U.S. tax litigation primarily related to the valuation of technology donations, charges in FY's 2012, 2011 and 2010 related to European legal matters, a FY 2010 charge related to a tax provision for retiree healthcare subsidy payments in the U.S. healthcare reform legislation, and incremental restructuring charges in FY 2009 to offset the dilutive impact of the Folgers divestiture. We believe the Core EPS measure provides an important perspective of underlying business trends and results and provides a more comparable measure of year-on-year earnings per share growth. Core EPS is also one of the measures used to evaluate senior management and is a factor in determining their at-risk compensation. The tables below provide a reconciliation of diluted net earnings per share to Core EPS:

8. Free Cash Flow / Adjusted Free Cash Flow:

Free cash flow is defined as operating cash flow less capital spending. Adjusted free cash flow is free cash flow adjusted for after-tax impacts of major divestitures. We view free cash flow as an important measure because it is one factor in determining the amount of cash available for dividends and discretionary investment. Free cash flow is also one of the measures used to evaluate senior management and is a factor in determining their at-risk compensation. The reconciliation of free cash flow is provided below (amounts in millions):

9. Adjusted Free Cash Productivity:

Adjusted free cash flow productivity is defined as the ratio of adjusted free cash flow to net earnings excluding the gains from major divestitures. Given the size of these gains and our view that they are not part of our sustainable results, we have excluded gains from our calculation. We believe this provides a better perspective of our underlying liquidity trends. The Company's long-term target is to generate free cash flow at or above 90 percent of net earnings. Adjusted free cash flow productivity is also one of the measures used to evaluate senior management and is a factor in determining their at-risk compensation. The reconciliation of adjusted free cash flow productivity is provided below (amounts in millions):
