  - Limited medical, STM, HIP, CI, gap plans due to higher rates for essential health benefit plans (EHBs)
    - These tend to be higher margin business than major medical

  - Non-subscriber occupational accident
  - International benefits

IHC Medical Stop-Loss

Structure of the business

- Standard Security Life Insurance Company of New York (SSL)
  - Over the last 26 years, SSL has gained a reputation as one of the leading carriers nationally in offering medical stop-loss products to smaller and mid-size employers
  - SSL is flagship carrier with 85% of IHC written business
- IHC Risk Solutions (RS)
  - Direct writing stop-loss operation of SSL that distributes its products through TPAs, retail brokers, and wholesale brokers
  - Formed in 2011 as consolidation of 5 wholly owned MGU's
- MGU's - 4 current independent MGU's
  - IHC owns 42% of largest of these MGUs

- Relative size (2012 TY premium)

- Relative Growth (2009-2012 premium)
  - RS – +22%
  - MGU - -18%
- Relative Profitability (2009-2012)
  - RS net loss ratios 4.7% lower, on average, than that for MGU's

RS Growth Strategy

- Since its consolidation, RS has developed and begun to implement a highly effective and targeted growth strategy

SMALL BUSINESS | Updated May 27, 2013, 7:58 p.m. ET

One Strategy for Health-Law Costs: Self Insure

UnitedHealth and Humana Will Offer Smaller Businesses Options Typically Left to Big Corporations

CIGNA Partnership

- CIGNA selected SSL as TPA stop-loss partner in 2010
- Approximately 20% of book of business
- Access to proprietary discount information that allows RS to offer more competitive and accurate pricing
- Active participant in CIGNA's payer advisory council
- CIGNA has been very active in developing joint promotional initiatives with RS and has actively promoted and introduced RS to new partners

Impact of Healthcare Reform

- Anticipate growth in stop-loss market
  - Guaranteed acceptance and community rating with limited rating parameters will make self-funding more attractive for small group employers
  - Unlimited maximums create increased interest for stop-loss coverage
  - Increased media coverage surrounding ACA has created a heightened awareness of self-funding
  - Some taxes and benefit limitations required by ACA do not apply to self-funded plans
  - Minimum MLRs have squeezed the amount fully insured carriers can pay broker commissions
  - Pay or Play – new groups not previously covered and movement of small groups to self-funded with stop-loss

Impact of Health Care Reform

- Fully Insured Strategy
  - Will offer small groups and individuals renewals in many states in late 2013 with majority of premium collected in 2014
  - Collaborating with RS to offer stop-loss product designed for SGSF market
  - Filing EHBs (SGMM in 33 states and for IMM in 14 states), and will seek opportunities to sell through private exchanges, agents and D2C
  - Expect major medical business written in 2014 to drop sharply, but higher EHB premiums should increase demand for limited med, STM, Gap plans
    - These products tend to have higher underwriting margins so can write less of this premium while maintaining underwriting profits

Direct-to-Consumer Unit

- Healthinsurance.org continues steady growth
  - 2010 unique visitors: 994,000
  - 2013 unique visitors (estimated): 1,250,000
  - #1 in organic search for keyword phrase “State Exchanges”
    - Plan to be web-based enroller in most states
- Consumer sites seeing increased sales
  - 2011 new sales: $3.8M
  - 2013 new sales (estimated): $12M
  - Healthdeals.com wins national website design award

Maximizing Shareholder Value While Maintaining a High-Quality, Low-Duration Portfolio

- Organic growth of stop-loss
- Emphasize D2C distribution
- Transition away from major medical insurance to more affordable ancillary and supplemental products with higher margins
- Continue to safeguard our assets
  - Strong, safe portfolio – overall rated AA, yield 3.9%
  - Short duration protects against inflation – 6.0 years
- Continue decreasing expenses
- Responding to inquiries regarding sale of certain assets that could unlock shareholder value, although IHC's valuation has gone up considerably compared to its peers
