Disclaimer

Forward Looking Statements

This presentation includes “forward looking statements” within the meaning of the “safe harbor” provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements may be identified by the use of words such as “anticipate,” “believe,” “expect,” “estimate,” “plan,” “outlook,” and “project” and other similar expressions that predict or indicate future events or trends or that are not statements of historical matters. Such forward looking statements include projected financial information. Such forward looking statements with respect to revenues, earnings, performance, strategies, prospects and other aspects of the businesses of Quinpario Acquisition Corp. (“QPAC”), Jason Partners Holdings Inc. (“Jason”) and the combined company after completion of the proposed business combination are based on current expectations that are subject to risks and uncertainties. A number of factors could cause actual results or outcomes to differ materially from those indicated by such forward looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to: (1) the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the Stock Purchase Agreement for the business combination (the “Purchase Agreement”); (2) the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against Jason or QPAC following announcement of the proposed business combination and transactions contemplated thereby; (3) the inability to complete the transactions contemplated by the proposed business combination due to the failure to obtain approval of the stockholders of QPAC, or other conditions to closing in the Purchase Agreement; (4) the ability to obtain or maintain the listing of the post-combination company’s common stock on NASDAQ following the business combination; (5) the risk that the proposed business combination disrupts current plans and operations as a result of the announcement and consummation of the transactions described herein; (6) the ability to recognize the anticipated benefits of the business combination, which may be affected by, among other things, competition, the ability to integrate the Jason and QPAC businesses, and the ability of the combined business to grow and manage growth profitably; (7) costs related to the business combination; (8) changes in applicable laws or regulations; (9) the possibility that Jason or QPAC may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors; and (10) other risks and uncertainties indicated from time to time in the proxy statement, including those under “Risk Factors” therein, and other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) by QPAC. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance upon any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date made. QPAC and Jason undertake no obligation to update or revise the forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Financial Presentations

This presentation includes non-GAAP financial measures, including EBIT, EBITDA, Proforma EBITDA, EBIT Margin and EBITDA Margin. EBITDA is calculated as earnings before interest and taxes (“EBIT”) plus depreciation and amortization (“EBITDA”). In addition, Proforma EBITDA is calculated as EBITDA adjusted to give pro forma effect to (i) the proposed business combination with QPAC, (ii) the business combination’s related changes to the post-combination company’s capitalization structure and (iii) the estimated increase expenses of operating as a public company. EBIT Margin is defined as EBIT divided by total revenues. EBITDA Margin is defined as EBITDA divided by total revenues.

Non-GAAP and Other Company Information

Jason believes that these non-GAAP measures of financial results provide useful information to management and investors regarding certain financial and business trends relating to Jason’s financial condition and results of operations. Jason’s management uses these non-GAAP measures to compare Jason’s performance to that of prior periods for trend analyses, for purposes of determining management incentive compensation, and for budgeting and planning purposes. These measures are used in monthly financial reports prepared for management and Jason’s board of directors. Jason believes that the use of these non-GAAP financial measures provides an additional tool for investors to use in evaluating ongoing operating results and trends and in comparing Jason’s financial measures with other companies in the finishing, seating, acoustics or components business, many of which present similar non-GAAP financial measures to investors. Management of Jason does not consider these non-GAAP measures in isolation or as an alternative to financial measures determined in accordance with GAAP. We have not reconciled the non-GAAP forward looking information to their corresponding GAAP measures because we do not provide guidance for the various reconciling items such as stock-based compensation, provision for income taxes, depreciation and amortization, costs related to acquisitions, and foreign currency remeasurements and transactions gains and losses, as certain items that impact these measures are out of our control or cannot be reasonably predicted. You should review Jason’s audited financial statements, which will be presented in QPAC’s proxy statement to be filed with the SEC and delivered to QPAC’s stockholders, and not rely on any single financial measure to evaluate Jason’s business.

Other companies may calculate EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and other non-GAAP measures differently, and therefore our EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and other non-GAAP measures and that of Jason may not be directly comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies.

Additional Information

QPAC has filed with the SEC a preliminary proxy statement in connection with the proposed business combination and other matters and will mail a definitive proxy statement and other relevant documents to its stockholders when they become available. QPAC’s stockholders and other interested persons are advised to read the preliminary proxy statement and any amendments thereto and, once available, the definitive proxy statement in connection with the Company’s solicitation of proxies for its stockholders’ meeting to be held to approve, among other things, the proposed business combination because the proxy statement will contain important information about QPAC, Jason and the business combination. Stockholders may obtain a free copy of the proxy statement, as well as other filings containing information about QPAC, without charge, at the SEC’s Internet site (www.sec.gov). You may also be able to obtain these documents, free of charge, by accessing QPAC’s website (www.quinpario.com). Copies of the proxy statement and the filings with the SEC that are incorporated by reference in the proxy statement can also be obtained, without charge, by directing a request to Paul J. Berra III, Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary, 12935 N. Forty Drive, St. Louis, Missouri 63141.

Participants in the Solicitation

QPAC and its directors and executive officers and other persons may be deemed to be participants in the solicitations of proxies from QPAC’s stockholders in respect of the proposed business combination. Information regarding QPAC’s directors and executive officers and a description of their direct and indirect interests, by security holdings or otherwise, is contained in QPAC’s preliminary proxy statement for the business combination, which has been filed with the SEC.
