“U.S. economic factors are very healthy and we’re seeing the effect in the auto industry – not just in strong demand for SUVs and pickups, but in demand for high trim versions of vehicles. Our all-new Expedition and Navigator are off to a hot start across the country; Platinum Expedition and high series Reserve and Black Label versions of Navigator are in high demand.”

– Mark LaNeve, Ford vice president, U.S. Marketing, Sales and Service

KEY VEHICLES

2018 Ford F-150

Ford F-Series posted another sales gain, with continued demand for high series pickups generating another new record. Average transaction pricing for F-Series in January totaled $47,800 per truck – up $1,400 over a year ago and $140 over December’s record.

2018 Ford Expedition

All-new 2018 Ford Expedition is off to a tremendous start, with a high mix of Platinum models – representing 29 percent of our sales – pushing transaction price increases of $7,800. We saw retail sales increase in every region of the country, with our largest market, the Central region, up 46 percent.

2018 Ford Mustang

Retail sales of the 2018 Ford Mustang gained 10.7 percent, with the biggest increases coming from the nation’s larger sports car markets – Dallas is up 39 percent and Houston is up 9 percent.

2018 Lincoln Navigator

Sales of our all-new Lincoln Navigator are up triple digits in every region of the country, with the Western region up 135 percent. At retail, 84 percent of Navigators sold are Reserve and Black Label SUVs – our two highest trim levels. Navigator is turning on dealer lots in just 7 days.
