This presentation contains the adjusted EBITDA of Entegris and the SAES Pure Gas business, which are considered “Non-GAAP financial measure” under the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The reconciliations of adjusted EBITDA of Entegris and the SAES Pure Gas business to Net Income is included elsewhere in this release. The presentation of this financial information should be considered in addition to the comparable GAAP measure and is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for, or superior to, the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. Entegris uses non-GAAP financial measures for financial and operational decision-making, as a means to evaluate period-to-period comparisons, as well as comparisons to our competitors' operating results. Management believes that certain non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful supplemental information regarding performance and liquidity by excluding certain items that may not be indicative of our recurring business operating results, such as amortization, depreciation and discrete cash charges that are infrequent in nature. We believe that both management and investors benefit from referring to certain non-GAAP financial measures in assessing and understanding our results and performance and when planning, forecasting, and analyzing future periods. We believe these non-GAAP financial measures are useful to investors both because (1) they allow for greater transparency with respect to key metrics used by management in its financial and operational decision-making and (2) they are used by our institutional investors and the analyst community to help them analyze our business.
